Kingman M. E. Church Services.

Sunday 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school 2:30 p. m.; prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. To all of these services a hearty invitation is extended to every person in Kingman, and also to any strangers passing through this place.

J. M. BAXTER, Pastor.

W. F. Grounds, of Hackberry, was in Kingman yesterday.

Rod McLean has gone out to Stockton Hill to do assessment work.

Supervisor Samuel Crozier, of Hackberry, is in Kingman on business.

William Imus, the big cattle owner of Hackberry, is in Kingman looking after business matters.

John Blakely and wife ate Thanksgiving turkey under the paternal roof-tree in Kingman. They have gone back to Cedar.

The thanks of the MINER editor are extended to George A. Bonelli, the 4th street butcher, for a fine fat Thanksgiving turkey.

William Mack, who has a big group of mines twenty-five miles below Needles, has bonded them to a San Francisco party who will begin development work right away.

P. E. Collins is putting up the whim on the Belle McElroy mine at Cedar. As soon as it is in working order the little mill will be put to grinding out bullion. Judge Blakely has just returned from a visit to the property and is well pleased with the way it is showing up under development.

Thomas P. Morrissey, of Mojave, California, and Miss Bertha Britain, of Texas, were married by Judge Logan last Tuesday. The happy young couple remained in Kingman several days. Mr. Morrissey is a well known railroad man and the bride has for some time past been a resident of Mojave.

George Aitken, one of the brightest mining men Mohave county has ever had among her citizens, has discovered a mine carrying a large percentage of antimony, about twelve miles northeast of Mojave, California. The antimony in the ore is not associated with the many other bases usually found in connection with this metal. Mr. Aitken's many friends in Mohave county wish him success with his new find.

The San Francisco Call, of last Sunday, has a sketch of Mrs. Thomas Newlands, who is described as the only lady prospector in Arizona. Mrs. Newlands is a resident of Yavapai county and the Call accounts her a bright and attractive woman. Mrs. Newlands is well known in this part of Arizona, her husband having operated the Flagstaff mine, near Cerbat, under lease and bond, for which many of the business men of Kingman are exceedingly sorry. There is no denying the fact that Mrs. Newlands is possessed of rare business ability and there is no reason why she will not succeed in mining pursuits.

John Barry, the well known mining man and owner of the richest mines in Wallapai mining district, is in Kingman. Mr. Barry is now engaged in sinking a two-compartment shaft on the Minnesota mine, within a short distance of the Connor line. The shaft is now down 140 feet. When the 200 foot level is reached drifts will be run off north and south and an immense block of ground opened for stoping. A large force of men will be put on and the mill and concentrators run night and day. The richest of the ore will be shipped and the poorer ore concentrated and put in marketable shape. The mine is one of the big properties of the Pacific coast and Mr. Barry is putting it in condition to eclipse the output of any of the big producers of the coast.

Charles Logan is building an hotel in Hackberry.

Mrs. Burke, mother of Mrs. J. C. Potts, has returned to Prescott.

There was born to the wife of John Mulligan, last Tuesday, a baby boy.

Judge J. M. Murphy is home again from a business trip to San Francisco.

W. Wiseman, of Chloride, spent Thanksgiving with his brother-in-law, Abe Lafayette, in Kingman.

Charles E. Sherman and his daughter, Katie, of Mineral Park, are in Kingman enjoying Thanksgiving festivities.

G. W. Pittock, the bright, bustling solicitor for the Phoenix Republican, writes us that he will soon be in Kingman.

After visiting a week with her parents in Kingman, Mrs. George S. Briggs left for her home in Needles Sunday evening.

Newt Snell, who has been ill for several months past, is now able to get out on the street and will soon be himself again.

Mrs. T. B. Shipp has gone to San Jose, where she will visit for a few weeks. Mr. Shipp will probably accompany her home.

J. N. Cohenour has struck water in his well at a depth of 170 feet. When completed it will be the deepest well in Kingman.

Thomas McNeely, H. B. Hampton, Greely Clark and Ed Kennedy, came in from the Oro Plata mine to take in the Thanksgiving ball.

Dr. Ealy was called to Yucca Tuesday and when he returned he announced the birth of a baby girl to the wife of William Pitts, Wednesday morning.

Thursday evening Judge W. G. Blakely and Rev. J. M. Baxter gave a lecture to the Wallapai Indians at the school building on West Beale street.

Judge J. H. West, of Needles, was in Kingman last night and selected a site for the new brewery, which he contemplates building as soon as headquarters are removed from Needles to this place.

M. L. Boner and wife are in Kingman from their home on the Big Sandy creek. Mr. Boner is now the owner of the Kayser place and is in a fair way to become one of the big cattle raisers of the southwest.

Harvey Hubbs returned from Los Angeles last night. While in the city he purchased furniture for the second story of the Hubbs-Mulligan building, and will soon have it ready to accommodate lodgers.

Hon. Foster S. Dennis came in from the Alpha mine to eat his Thanksgiving turkey with his family in Kingman. He reports the Alpha mine showing up more ore than any other mine in that neighborhood.

The central telephone office will soon be removed from the depot to a commodious office in town. The company has just paid its first quarterly dividend of four per cent and its business affairs are in a satisfactory shape.

T. M. Drennan, of Parker, Arizona, was in Kingman the first of the week looking after the sampling of several tons of gold ore from a new location thirty miles below Needles, on the Colorado river. The ore sampled over four ounces in gold to the ton. The ledge from which the ore was taken is a vein two feet in width, one foot of which is solid ore. Three carloads of this grade of ore are on the dump awaiting the arrival of the steamer, when it will be shipped to the sampler.

Thomas Ewing, the wealthy Pacific coast mining operator, has bonded the Shirltail mountain group of mines from Monaghan & Murphy, Judge J. H. West, Frank Holmes, Stephen Bedell and others and now has fifteen men at work on them. The ledges are big bodies of low grade ore with wonderfully rich stratas running through them, are so situated that they can be developed to great depth at a moderate cost. Six miles below the mines flows the mighty Colorado river, from which power sufficient for all purposes of milling can be obtained.

Rufe Allison is building a residence on South Third street.

James Carter, of Hackberry, was in Kingman a few days ago.

Maynard Hart, of the Oro Plata, is enjoying himself in Kingman.

Miss Maude Maguire was up from Yucca Wednesday and took in the grand masked ball.

Mrs. Starkey and her daughters have moved into the Starkey residence on South 3d street.

M. W. Jose, of Wheatville, California, is in Kingman. Mr. Jose is a son-in-law of the late J. H. Phillips, of Hackberry.

Capt. R. D. Crawford has gone to Union Pass to supervise operations on the Independence and Goddess of Liberty mines.

George W. Grayson, a well-known mining investor of San Francisco, has been examining Judge Murphy's mines near Chloride.

George Grayson and Thomas Ewing, the wealthy mining operators, are in Kingman. We hope they have found inducements sufficient to cause them to invest in our big mines.

Mr. and Mrs. George Conard came in from Mud Springs Monday and Mrs. Conard departed on the evening train for Corning, California, where she will visit with her parents for several months.

George Walker returned to Kingman from Needles last Wednesday morning. While absent he defended successfully a suit in San Bernardino and another one at Needles. Mr. Walker is a success as an attorney.

The Santa Fe Pacific railroad company surveyors have just completed a survey for a canal to be taken from the Colorado river a short distance below Fort Mohave. The canal will reclaim about ten thousand acres of land.

Dan McKinnon, a well known old timer of Mohave county, has returned to Chloride after several years absence in other states and territories. About ten years ago he cleaned up a nice fortune from a lease on the Minnesota mine.

Fred Carrow, who has been in Kingman for several days, succeeded in bagging five turkeys at the shoot Thanks giving. George Bonelli got four with six shots and Sam Withers tied the prize winner with five. And it wasn't a good day for turkeys either.

Sheriff Potts has interested himself in the matter of the reward offered by the territory for the apprehension of the Indian murderer Mouse, and the capturers are in a fair way to secure the money. The men who rid the earth of this red fiend are entitled to the reward and we hope the governor will see his way clear to having it paid.

Alfred Ver Mehr, who was called to San Francisco last week by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his mother, arrived in the city seven hours after she had breathed her last. Mrs. Ver Mehr was the kindest and most lovable of women and her death will be mourned by everyone who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

The masquerade ball at Lake's Hall, Thursday evening, was a success in every way. Many unique costumes were worn and many were the surprises when the masks were removed. Space will not permit of individual descriptions of costumes, but Sam Withers, as a tramp, Howard Watkins, as the Yellow Kid, and the personification of James Rosborough were exceptionally good. Topsy was there, and a jovial, jolly Topsy she was. Folly, Night, a Nun, Mother Goose, Red Riding Hood, the Bat, Flower girl and many beautiful and artistic costumes were there. The press was represented by Mrs. C. E. Bowers. Tommy Tyrrell was an Irish washerwoman. The only puzzling thing in Tommy's makeup was the mystery of where he obtained his store hair. The music by Bon'ou & Gonne was excellent. Supper, (it we may call it such), was obtained at Yung Hing Wo's restaurant. It was really the most abominable meal ever set before the people of Kingman on an occasion of this kind.

Probably nothing more strikingly illustrates the great increase in the number of men who have made mining an avocation than the numerous inquiries weekly received at his office regarding points on which the mining world is generally supposed to be well posted—the rudimentary requirements of mining knowledge. The questions are all evidently asked in good faith, and are as faithfully answered—Mining and Scientific Press.

Royal makes the food pure, wholesome and delicious.

Mrs. H. Bowman, of the Cienega Ranch, was in Kingman a few days ago looking after business affairs and visiting friends.
